

RAISED A BIG STORM.

The People of Pittsburgh Demand That the Exposition Be Open During the World's Fair.

IT IS THE CHANCE OF A LIFETIME.

Great Necessity of a Magnificent Display of Manufacturing Industries in 1893.

NEED SOMETHING TO SHOW TRAVELERS.

There Will Still Be Thousands Left at Home to Attend the Big Show.

Some of the Exposition Society Directors and annual exhibitors have decided in favor of closing the Exposition in 1893, as stated in this DISPATCH yesterday, on the ground that, as this year's exhibition was not as successful as usual, it will not be a paying policy to conduct another when the World's Fair is in progress, because the exhibitors will be poorly attended. While this view is held by some people, interested and otherwise, it was found yesterday that the proposition has raised quite a storm of indignation among the people and they are not slow in expressing it. Among a number of prominent men interviewed by this DISPATCH on the subject was Mayor Gourley, who, on the matter being broached, exclaimed: "Why, this suggestion is preposterous! Do you wish to ignore the best opportunity for advertising our city we have ever had? Do you think that of the vast number of people from the East and from foreign countries who will pass through here, going and coming from Chicago, that a large number will not stop off to examine our industries and to see our city? I can't understand why anyone would ignore this important consideration in looking at the matter."

"Even if the society should fail to secure as much patronage and make as much money as last year, which I doubt, it would be a golden opportunity to display in a compact and comprehensive form all the industries which have made Pittsburgh famous, and to increase our reputation as a great manufacturing center. It is not natural to assume that a large proportion of the people of this community, which has supported the Exposition in the past, will attend the World's Fair in 1893. The exhibitors and exhibitors should spare neither pains nor money to make it eclipse all former efforts, so that visitors to the city will find there, in a small space, what it would require hours to see by going to the various manufacturers. If the exhibition is open these visitors will go to see it and they will commend Pittsburgh largely by its extensiveness."

Demand for Industrial Exhibits. Police Magistrate Leslie said: "I consider the proposition very unwise. The year 1893 will, I believe, be the best imaginable time to give this city a big advertisement and spread her fame. People all over the world will attend the Chicago Exposition, and how many will stop off to look at Pittsburgh? A large number will stop here beyond a doubt, for in what little Continental travel I have experienced, I have found that Pittsburgh is considered a famous manufacturing city. The exhibition would exclude all clothing, drygoods, grocery and candy exhibits from the buildings and allow those exhibitors to advertise their goods in our own manufacturing halls. By this means it would be possible to show nearly every class of manufacturing in the city under one roof. The exhibition would be what has made us famous. The drygoods and millinery displays can be seen on the streets in any large city, and it has been a common remark that the exhibition does not amount to much, you can see it by walking down Fifth avenue." Show strangers what we make and how we make it, and our Exposition will be a great success.

A Mistake to Close the Doors. "It would be the greatest mistake the business men of Pittsburgh ever made to close the doors of its Exposition during the World's Fair," said a prominent Fifth avenue piano dealer, yesterday. "If there was to be a great exhibition of pianos and organs in Pittsburgh I would not close my doors, but, on the contrary, I would take the opportunity of showing my goods. There are hundreds of good reasons why Pittsburgh should have an Exposition at that time. Pittsburgh people from the land, the Pacific coast will go to Chicago and when they are there they will come on to Pittsburgh. Many of these Western people will buy their iron, steel, glass, etc., from Pittsburgh, and will of course want to see the manufacturing. So that when these people come here Pittsburghers could make a great hit by going to a little extra expense and show their visitors the sights. Excursions could be made to the mills and up to Davis Island Dam and the many points of interest and beauty which abound in Pittsburgh. Those who are opposed to opening the Exposition advance the argument that no one will be left to attend it. That is not true, as can easily be seen. In the district from which the Pittsburgh Exposition draws its crowd there is a population of about 750,000 people. Of this number about 250,000 will attend the World's Fair and the balance, with a large majority of the 500,000, will come to Pittsburgh."

Cannot All Go to Chicago. "Of account for that in this manner. Long before the time that the exhibition of the country will be flooded with its advertising matter, and every person will be eager to attend some fair. They cannot all go to Chicago, but they can all go to Pittsburgh, and will come to the Pittsburgh Exposition if we have good attractions. Those who go to Chicago, on their return will compare the two shows. So with the 750,000 who are sure of, and the immense crowds which will pass through the city, I think it will be a chance for Pittsburgh to show what it can do."

"The people who are opposing it now will change their minds before long and see the matter in the right light."

James Flood, of Arbuckle & Co., said he thought an Exposition during the World's Fair year more important than any other year, because it would give the people of the East and from Europe would pass through Pittsburgh on their way and would stop to see us, and we ought to have something to show them. He further said that to people living here the exhibit is not much of a novelty, but it is to a stranger, who can learn more in an hour at an exposition of our industries than by a ride all the way to Chicago. He also said our show should be extensively advertised in Chicago.

H. P. Dilworth, of Dilworth & Co., who was present, endorsed what Mr. Flood said, and it was so cheerfully acknowledged.

Mr. Buser, of Dilworth Bros., thought it best to let the exhibition go for that year. He thought it would be overshadowed by the big show and further thought a yearly exhibit would grow stale in course of time anyhow.

William D. Harper, general manager of the house of Joseph Horne & Co., thought it better to have a show over the discretion of the Board of Exposition Managers, they being to a greater extent financially interested than others, but his opinion was what it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it.

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

Mr. Biber, of Biber & Easton, said: "I stop it open by every year, but I do not think it should be held at the Exposition here that year as usual; as he said there were thousands of neighboring farmers who would visit it but would not enter it, and it would be a great pity to miss it."

MAGEE FOR CHAIRMAN.

He Is Reported to Be Slated to Head the National Committee.

MUD-SLINGING EXPECTED IN OHIO.

Democratic Lawmakers Already on Their Way to Washington.

INTERESTING POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Since the Republican victory in Pennsylvania and Ohio things are already beginning to shape themselves for the general election. Although the Pennsylvania leaders are ostensibly taking a rest, they are at the same time incidentally making moves toward organization. The first shot fired by local politicians, who are next to the ones who shape the destiny of some people, was to the effect that C. I. Magee, of Pittsburgh, was to be the next Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

This statement is not improbable, according to the views taken by many persons and the placid relations now existing between Senator Quay and Mr. Magee. To a casual observer, this great pair are like comrades—sharing each other's political joys and sorrows, and taking no young persons share a ship. Mr. Magee aspired to the honorary public position three years ago, when Quay was voted in by a large majority. His cause was championed by Senator William Plinn, at Chicago, while Mr. Magee lay sick in the Grand Pacific Hotel. Plinn's friends wanted him to withdraw from the race, but he, seeing that the latter had no chance of winning, the Senator declined to do so, and as a consequence the Pittsburgh gentleman only got six votes out of the 62 delegates from Pennsylvania.

The Leaders Reconciled at Harrisburg. At that time Quay and Magee were not friends. They did not speak to each other for eight years, but both, realizing the importance of one another's friendship in politics, reconciliation was brought about last August at Harrisburg during the State convention.

This meeting had been prearranged for some months, and the couple met as strangers at the Commonwealth Hotel, where they were formally introduced by Senator Mylan. They afterward held a long conference in a private parlour and discussed the situation thoroughly.

Since then they have been pulling the oars together, and with great success, as is shown by the late election. Mr. Magee is now in Philadelphia, and such people as Senator Wm. Plinn, Chairman Gripp, Sheriff McCleary and Chief Brown, are there to receive him. Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

Mr. Magee is a man of a more congenial spirit could not have been selected. From very close friends of Mr. Magee it is learned that the present campaign is that Matthew Stanley Quay shall be returned to the United States Senate, and Mr. Magee can have the National Chairmanship, if he is elected.

"and we will get down to work without much ceremony. The Senate is Republican and they won't allow us to accomplish very much. The tariff will be revised on a Democratic basis. The result of the elections in the different States gives us great encouragement, and we think we can win in 1892. Down my way Cleveland is very popular, and he will not doubt be re-elected. The Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frankness. We want free silver, but I suppose we must get it for awhile. The nation doesn't seem to be prepared for it."

The Senator then diverged from politics to the Southern problem, and slapped his chest proudly, because it took the Northern people four long years to subdue the South. He said he lived in a negro town and he never saw one of them molest a white man. He said he would like to see the Arkansas people don't like his position on the silver question, but they admire his honesty and frank